

Measures to contain the Corona-Virus (COVID-19)

We are sure that everybody is aware by now, the Corona virus (COVID-19) is rapidly spreading across Europe. Until today the last hopes have been dashed that the new virus will only terrify the world for a short time and can be regained comparatively quickly. So because of this, we have taken the following measures to ensure that our business continues to operate normally not only on a short term basis but importantly, also on a long term basis:

With beginning of this coming Monday 16th of March of our staff will work by 100 percent remotely from home, staff working remotely will have full access to our IT. There is no effect on quality and lead times in answering of our E-Mails and/or your requests. Our operation and our order management system is still going smoothly and normal. Meetings will be done via vicon or phone conference.

In order not to offer any further platform for the spread of the virus, we have also decided to postpone the BCO Conference scheduled for June 12 to a later date in 2020. A time when we no longer have to be satisfied with water level reports and scenarios that change every day but when we can put the first, further analyzes and interim reports on the topic on the table. Because that's what sets Cross X Staff apart: the ability to analyze situations, bundle information and develop targeted solutions - a principle that we will not abandon in this very serious situation.

With this measures we as Cross X Staff wants to contribute our part to contain the virus and to our social responsibility and we would like to thank you all for your understanding and support.

Wishing all of you a good health.

Kind Regards,

Your Cross X Staff team
